Nearly $1 million in grant money is being injected into efforts to house homeless veterans in the Inland Empire.

The money from U.S. Housing and Urban Development and the Department of Veterans Affairs is part of a statewide initiative to house 1,775 homeless veterans. California is receiving $16 million of the $60 million total being apportioned to states.

The Housing Authority of the County of Riverside will receive $575,847 in partnership with the VA Loma Linda Healthcare System. The Loma Linda VA also is working with the Housing Authority of the County of San Bernardino, which will receive $371,804.

Today's Poll

What's this?

What do you think the Republican party should do to win back the White House?

- Move closer to the political center, where many Americans reside.
- Find a REAL conservative to be the candidate next time.
- Get the Tea Party movement back under the GOP tent. They cost the party too many votes.
- I don't know
