SAN BERNARDINO Journal honors housing community

The Maplewood Homes Community, a development of the county's Housing Authority, has received the Novogradac Journal of Tax Credits "Development of Distinction" award.

The award honors excellence and outstanding achievement in the development of tax credit projects using the low-income housing tax credit, historic tax credit, renewable energy tax credit, Exchange Program grant funds and/or tax credit projects using U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development program financing.

Maplewood Homes is a nearly 70-year-old affordable housing site with 296 units.
