We've seen many reports of wild animals such as bears and mountain lions in Southern California neighborhoods. What about yours?

- I have seen more wild animals in my neighborhood this year
- I have seen fewer wild animals
- It's about the same
- I see animals, but nothing exciting -- just stray cats and lost poodles
- I don't know

Beverly Earl, TFCF board chair and director of the Family & Community Services of Catholic Charities, provided the welcome remarks..

Trudy Raymundo, director, San Bernardino County Department of Public Health, led the Pledge of Allegiance. The Rev. Bronica Martindale, community health leader, County of San Bernardino, and TFCF board member, led the invocation.

Time for Change Foundation recognized the following 2013 honorees for their outstanding community service and commitment:

Humanitarian Award — Dr. James Kyle (The California Endowment)

Dynamic Duo Award — Mayor Patrick J. Morris and Sally Morris

Community Champion Award — San Bernardino Councilmember Wendy McCammack

Community Pioneer Award — Housing Authority of the County of San Bernardino Board of Commissioners

Ramos Family Spirit of Compassion Award — Niner Empire I.E. Faithfuls Chapter

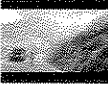

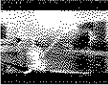

Community Service Award — Deer Creek Red Hat Hatters

Dr. Robert K. Ross, president and CEO of the California Endowment, presented the 2013 Humanitarian Award to Dr. James Kyle.

"We dedicate this celebration, 'Life's Precious Jewels' to our clients-the homeless women and their children, our supporters and our partners because to us at Time for Change Foundation, they are all our precious jewels!" said Rowena Concepcion, Associate Director for Time for Change Foundation.

Entertainment was provided by jazz saxophonist Vaughn Fahie.
